CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of the Congress that tax-exempt fraternal benefit societies have historically provided and continue to provide critical benefits to the people and communities of the United States.

Whereas fraternal benefit societies of the United States are long-standing mutual aid organizations created more than a century ago to serve the needs of communities and provide for the payment of life, health, accident, and other benefits to their members;

Whereas fraternal benefit societies represent a successful, modern-day model under which individuals come together with a common purpose to collectively provide charitable and other beneficial activities for society;

Whereas fraternal benefit societies operate under a chapter system, creating a nationwide infrastructure, combined with local energy and knowledge, which positions fraternal benefit societies to most efficiently address unmet needs in communities, many of which government cannot address;

Whereas the fraternal benefit society model represents one of the largest member-volunteer networks in the United States, with approximately 8,000,000 people of the United States belonging to more than 25,000 local chapters across the country;

Whereas research has shown that the value of the work of fraternal benefit societies to society is more than $3,800,000,000 per year, accounting for charitable giving, educational programs, and volunteer activities, as well as important social capital that strengthens the fabric, safety, and quality of life in thousands of local communities in the United States;

Whereas, in 1909, Congress recognized the value of fraternal benefit societies and exempted those organizations from taxation, as later codified in section 501(c)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986;

Whereas fraternal benefit societies have adapted since 1909 to better serve the evolving needs of their members and the public;

Whereas the efforts of fraternal benefit societies to help people of the United States save money and be financially secure relieves pressures on government safety net programs; and

Whereas Congress recognizes that fraternal benefit societies have served their original purpose for more than a century, helping countless individuals, families, and communities through their fraternal member activities: Now, therefore, be it

1        Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate
2 concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that—

3            (1) the fraternal benefit society model is a suc-
4            cessful private sector economic and social support
5            system that helps meet needs that would otherwise
6            go unmet;

7            (2) the provision of payment for life, sick, acci-
8            dent, or other benefits to the members of fraternal
9            benefit societies in accordance with section 501(c)(8)
10           of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is necessary
11           to support the charitable and fraternal activities of 12           the volunteer chapters within the communities of 13           fraternal benefit societies;

14           (3) fraternal benefit societies have adapted
15           since 1909 to better serve their members and the 16           public; and

17           (4) the exemption from taxation under section
18           501(c)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 of 19           fraternal benefit societies continues to generate sig-
20           nificant returns to the United States, and the work

1 of fraternal benefit societies should continue to be
2 promoted.
